DUNLOP'S ELECTION.

Dunlop speaks to his constituents after the declaration of the Poll.

T AM a proud man. You have placed your confidence in me at an important moment in the commercial history of the nation and it will be my concern to see that your confidence is not misplaced.

The goods which I have the honour to represent are goods which any Britisher may be proud of, and the service which these goods have rendered in the prosecution of the war has been no ignoble part. Tyres for lorries and motor cars, cycles and motor cycles and for aeroplanes, together with numerous other articles which it has been the privilege of the Dunlop Rubber Co., Ltd., to manufacture in the national interest, have done their part during the war-and done it well.

Now that we are on the verge of a commercial competition which must be in its way as keen a struggle as the war itself, you who have honoured me with your confidence will find that the service which I shall continue to render to British commerce is as good as the service of each of the articles bearing my head and my signature as trade mark will render you.

Car can be economical. The HUMBER 10 h.p. and 14 h.p. after-war models will satisfy the most exacting demand. The standard of accuracy and finish in all mechanical details eliminates friction, promoting smooth running, and ensuring the minimum expense for fuel and tyres.

These features are combined with moderate first cost and must exert their influence in favour of the HUMBER.

Serious Shortage Remedied

NE of the most distressing facts of the food situation recently has been the shortage of Bovril at the very moment when its body-building powers were most needed to fight the influenza epidemic.

Early in the New Year, however, the supplies of Bovril will be more plentiful, so that those who hold a stock at home can use it now with the knowledge that Recognising the urgent need of rebuilding the National Health after four years of war, Bovril Ltd. are making every effort to still further increase the supplies, and to provide "Bovril for all" at the earliest possible moment.

Bovri "Key" Food

Bovril possesses the peculiar power of increasing the nourishment you obtain from other food. In this sense it is a "Key" or "pivotal" food which makes your other food more valuable to you. Those whose vitality is impaired, those who have lost weight, should immediately. take a course of Bovril so as to build up the body against the attacks of influenza.
